'One Medicine in Action'

Virtual One Medicine Day Seminar

Friday 6th May 2022 - 2pm till 5.15pm BST

One Medicine in Action – Awareness, Collaboration and Change

Come and join Humanimal Trust for an afternoon seminar covering three key areas identified from our roadmap for One Medicine which aims to forge closer relationships and greater collaborations between human and veterinary medicine, and the allied health and scientific disciplines.

- What would joined up approaches look like in action?
- How do we raise greater awareness of the benefits of such approaches?
- What do such collaborations look like and how can we provide more opportunities, together with how do we communicate the benefits of change to various audiences?

Please note that this programme may be subject to change at short notice.

Registration is free and all attendees will need to pre-register – please see below for details.
